LONDON TRAINEE PROGRAMME

UNPARALLELED OPPORTUNITIES

WELCOME TO MORGAN LEWIS

A career in law starts with choosing the right firm for you—a firm where you can develop the skills and attributes needed to become a successful and high-quality lawyer. At Morgan Lewis, we offer trainees the opportunity to work on complex and often cross-border matters for high-profile clients in a collegiate and supportive environment.

Engagement and teamwork form the foundation of the training you will experience at Morgan Lewis. In the London office, our trainees work closely with partners and associates, often in teams. We offer a hands-on and varied experience, and our trainees are given early responsibility to help them build a thorough understanding of our firm's business and clients.

Our training programme is designed to provide you with the breadth of experience needed to become a confident and successful commercial lawyer. The programme starts with a comprehensive induction into the firm that provides all the tools you will need to hit the ground running. During the training contract, you will be given the opportunity to sit in four different practice areas, including a secondment to one of our international offices, giving you exposure to as much of our business as possible. Regular in-house seminars and training sessions provide ongoing learning opportunities to help you further develop your knowledge and proficiency.

Our collaborative culture underpins everything we do. As a trainee at Morgan Lewis, you will be supported by colleagues who will be on hand to encourage, mentor, and guide you throughout your training contract. They will provide regular advice and feedback on your progress and performance to help you succeed and transition into becoming an accomplished associate.

We look forward to welcoming you to Morgan Lewis.

OUR LONDON OFFICE

Our London office opened in 1981, and since then, we have advised clients on English law-governed transactions, disputes, and regulations in a range of international markets, both established and emerging, with a particular focus on Europe, the Middle East, and Asia (EMEA). Operating as a global hub, we work seamlessly with lawyers throughout EMEA to provide integrated teams for deals and complex litigation.

London's role as a key financial and business centre means that we are well positioned to advise clients around the world on market-leading projects across legal disciplines such as finance, corporate transactions, investment funds, international tax, competition, dispute resolution, immigration, and employment, and governed by English law.

As a trainee, you will work with lawyers who have experience in the financial services, energy, life sciences, and technology sectors. Trainees can gain experience in any of the nine practices within the London office:

Antitrust & Competition

This practice provide high-quality advice to achieve successful outcomes for clients engaged in a full range of matters, including antitrust investigations, infringement actions, and merger control.

Banking & Finance

We advise clients on international banking and finance transactions, derivatives, private placements, debt and equity securities offerings, and restructurings all around the globe.

Corporate/M&A

We provide counsel to clients on a broad range of transactions, including mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, leveraged buyouts, venture capital, and other public and private equity financings.

Unique among law firms, Morgan Lewis has a substantial team dedicated to advising clients in all aspects of technology and commercial transactions. We support our clients with respect to all aspects of technology transactions to enable them to more efficiently and effectively acquire, transfer, and protect their technology assets; exploit their products and services; interact with personnel, customers, and providers; and otherwise run their business operations.

Dispute Resolution/Investigations, White Collar & Compliance

We handle a wide range of sophisticated and often sensitive issues, including international commercial disputes, international arbitration, insurance recovery, and white collar matters. We have experience in most courts and arbitration venues, including those in primary offshore jurisdictions.

Companies that operate internationally face increased anticorruption risk and scrutiny. We bring a cross-disciplinary team of lawyers to advise clients in government investigations as well as white collar and compliance matters.

“Engaging with our communities in this way provides us with the opportunity to be a part of something larger than ourselves—in ways both small and large—and adds to our ability to thrive as individuals and as a firm.”

Jami McKeon, Firm Chair

PRO BONO AND THE COMMUNITY

At Morgan Lewis, we have a long history of supporting our local communities by providing both pro bono legal services and participating in community service activities. Indeed, offering our skills, resources, and time to those in need is a core tenet of our firm’s culture and a shared value across our offices worldwide.

Our firm’s longstanding pro bono commitment is demonstrated through every level of seniority contributing at least 20 hours every fiscal year. Because pro bono work is so rewarding in terms of professional development, skill development, and personal satisfaction, most lawyers and trainees exceed this minimum expectation. During the fiscal year ending 30 September 2023 100% of eligible lawyers and trainees met the challenge. On average, lawyers billed more than 50 hours to pro bono matters.

To plan community and charity events, the London office has a Charity & Community Committee that meets regularly. Trainee solicitors are actively encouraged to join the committee and contribute to its work. Each year, the committee organises an office vote to choose two charities to support via various fundraising events, including bake-offs and a winter fair. The committee also seeks out sporting events that allow the office to raise monies for our chosen charities as well as to support staff well-being.

The London office is proud to work with Bookmark, a tech-led literacy charity supporting underserved primary school children to give them a fairer chance in life. Our volunteers support children ages 5–9 who struggle with reading. With twice-weekly virtual meetings, we help these children build essential skills while making reading fun and serving as positive role models.

Each year, the firm dedicates its Community Impact Week to focusing on further community service and pro bono legal service efforts, as well as celebrating what has already been accomplished for those in need. The wide-ranging variety of events throughout Community Impact Week includes legal clinics, legal trainings, panel discussions, volunteer events, charity drives, and more across the firm’s offices in North America, Asia, Europe, and the Middle East.

COMMITTED TO DIVERSITY & INCLUSION

At Morgan Lewis, we believe that a commitment to diversity and inclusion (D&I) is vital to realizing our true success as a firm. We are committed to D&I because it is integral to how we succeed for clients. It influences how we serve clients, collaborate with colleagues, and engage talented lawyers and professional staff, as well as how we engage the global communities where we live and work.

LEADERSHIP

Cultivating a culture of opportunity for all is a priority at Morgan Lewis and is a key part of our approach to D&I. Led by Chair Jami McKeon, our firm is committed to having equal opportunities for all individuals to serve in senior leadership roles, including on the Advisory Board and the Compensation Committee, as leaders of our practices and offices, and in prominent positions throughout all of our offices worldwide.

ML WOMEN

Our ML Women Initiative harnesses the strength of our women through partnership with our clients, creating opportunities for our women to come together around a shared industry or practice. Whether it is hosting a specialized roundtable for women featuring speakers from Morgan Lewis, our clients, and external experts, or leveraging our vast network of successful women alumnae to discuss topics specific to women, leadership, and the power of women consumers, we are proud to support women leaders in business and industry.

LAWYER NETWORKS

Our firm has several internal lawyer networks, or affinity groups. Participation is voluntary, based on self-identification, and open to all lawyers interested in learning more about or participating in the groups' activities.

Each group—led by two influential partners and other lawyers—meets regularly, shares information, and enables junior and mid-level lawyers to gain valuable insight from more senior lawyers. The networks also play a vital role in the development and retention of diverse lawyers, and help to create a more inclusive firm culture by bringing community, understanding, and enhanced opportunities to everyone at Morgan Lewis.

Our lawyer networks include:

- Asian American/Asian Lawyer Network
- Black Lawyer Network
- Disability Awareness Lawyer Network
- First Generation Lawyer Network
- Hispanic/Latino Lawyer Network
- LGBTQ+ Lawyer Network
- Middle Eastern North African Lawyer Network
- Parent Lawyer Network

MOBILIZING FOR EQUALITY

Morgan Lewis's Mobilizing for Equality Task Force is spearheaded by Firm Chair Jami McKeon together with Grace Speights, leader of the firm's global labor and employment practice. The task force was formed to promote racial equality and justice in the aftermath of the May 25, 2020, killing of George Floyd by Minneapolis police.

The Mobilizing for Equality Task Force includes 20 members from all ranks of our firm and around the globe. We also have formed 12 working groups to develop substantive projects related to seeking racial justice, including Community Engagement and Volunteerism, Racial Justice Pro Bono, Conversations on Privilege and Anti-Racism, and Engaging with Clients and Alumni.

GET TO KNOW US

OPEN DAYS

Our Open Day runs in April of each year. This one-day programme is a great way to learn more about Morgan Lewis as a firm and about commercial law in general.

We will introduce you to our key practice areas in the London office and give you the opportunity to meet with some of our trainees during a Q&A session. You will also sit down with some of our associates and trainees over an informal lunch, before attending a number of skills sessions.

SUMMER VACATION SCHEME

Our summer schemes are a great way for you to gain genuine insight into life as a trainee at Morgan Lewis. We offer up to 10 places on our two-week programme, which runs in early July of each year.

During the scheme, you will be given as much hands-on experience as possible and will be supervised by a senior lawyer who will provide advice and guidance throughout the placement. You could be conducting legal research for live deals/cases, attending client meetings, sitting in on conference calls, or drafting engagement letters during your time at the firm. You will also be assigned a trainee "buddy" who will act as an informal mentor throughout the placement. You will have the opportunity to attend a number of seminars and workshops, including presentations from each of the London office's practices and a Q&A session with some of our trainees. We also organise a number of social events during the scheme, providing you with the opportunity to meet many of our partners, associates, trainees, and business support staff in a more informal setting.

Summer scheme students are assessed for a training contract during the course of the placement. Assessments vary each year, but typically will include a comprehension or written exercise, a research activity, and a group presentation, as well as a partner interview at the end of the scheme.

SUMMER SCHEME INSIGHT

LOUIS DEAN

Summer Scheme Student 2023 | Joins as a Trainee in September 2025

From the outset I was drawn to Morgan Lewis for its clear identity, global presence, and respected client base, along with its unique position as a US firm covering a broad range of practice and industry areas in London. The key skills the firm looks for in potential future lawyers, from resilience to team spirit, resonated with my own experiences, and from a potential trainee perspective, the smaller intake and subsequent early responsibility were also attractive.

As a non-law graduate on the summer scheme, I was able to quickly develop an understanding of the firm's breadth of work and collaborative culture by attending seminar-style presentations organised by the graduate recruitment team and key practice groups.

I was incredibly fortunate to spend time in both the intellectual property and tax groups, which gave me valuable insight into various transactional and non-transactional work matters. Whether I was performing research or drafting documents, that time provided me with excellent exposure to legal work and, crucially, allowed me to learn from many different individuals at Morgan Lewis who were incredibly generous with their time.

From my trainee buddy to my sector supervisors, meeting and conversing with the firm's people was my personal highlight. The welcoming, non-hierarchical nature of the office allowed me to fully appreciate and understand the firm's commitment to inclusion—We Are Morgan Lewis—and I completed the scheme looking forward to joining the firm in 2025.

TRAINING

CONTRACT PROGRAMME

Each year we recruit up to six trainees, and we are looking for candidates who show us their team spirit, commercial awareness, resilience, and passion for a career in law.

WHAT CAN I EXPECT FROM MY TRAINING?

As a trainee, you can expect to be an active member of a busy team and play a real part in doing challenging legal work. The work will be varied and complex, and will most likely involve working across a variety of different jurisdictions.

Training will begin with a comprehensive induction programme, designed to provide you with the tools and skills needed to make an immediate contribution to the firm. Each practice runs regular seminars and training sessions that all trainees are expected to attend, allowing you to continually further your knowledge and build on your proficiency throughout your training contract. You will receive regular feedback on your performance from a range of people throughout your seats, including your supervisors, peers, and colleagues. There will be an informal progress review midway through each seat, as well as a more formal evaluation with your supervisor at the end of each seat.

WHAT SEATS CAN I DO?

All of our trainees spend six months in four different practice areas, including a compulsory transactional seat (usually corporate and business transactions) and a seat in one of our contentious practices (litigation or antitrust). We offer additional seats in finance, investment management, labour and employment, structured transactions, intellectual property, and tax, as well as the occasional client secondment in London. There is also the possibility to undertake a secondment in one of our international offices, including Dubai and Singapore, depending on the needs of the firm.

While classic "seat" allocations bring a practice-area focus to each six-month phase of your training, the versatility and integration of our lawyers ensure that you will have a varied workload and regular exposure to diverse learning experiences.

TRAINEE SALARY AND BENEFITS

Salary is competitive and benefits include the following:

- Pension scheme
- Private medical and dental insurance
- Life assurance
- Cycle-to-work scheme
- Employee assistance programme
- 25 days' holiday per year
- Income protection
- Interest-free season ticket loan
- Discounted shopping

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN LAW (PGDL) AND SOLICITORS QUALIFYING EXAMINATION (SQE)

Our future trainees currently complete the SQE (as well as the PGDL, if required) at BPP University Law School in London. All law school fees are paid in full and our future trainees are provided with a maintenance grant whilst studying the SQE and/or PGDL. The firm does not provide retrospective funding for law school fees or maintenance grants.

From September 2021 the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) introduced the SQE. Prospective trainees should not be concerned about these changes, and can expect a fit-for-purpose programme which is favourably comparable with the Legal Practice Course route. For those who are offered a training contract starting in 2026 and beyond, you will need to follow the SQE route.

A DAY IN THE LIFE...

ALANA FAJOBI, a first-year trainee, describes a day in her life in the antitrust practice.

9:00 AM I arrive at my desk, read the emails that I received overnight, and update my to-do list. I am currently working on litigation in appellate proceedings at the Competition Appeal Tribunal (CAT), which means I receive more urgent requests than usual. I email the client with a livestream link of the day's hearing so they can follow along. I also print off a copy of the previous day's hearing transcript to add to counsel's bundle along with new documents other parties have added.

9:35 AM I change into a suit and enjoy the 10-minute walk down to the CAT.

9:45 AM I arrive at the CAT and update counsel's bundles with the hardcopy documents. I touch base with the team and hand out stationery where needed.

10:00 AM The day's hearing begins. As this is a day that counsel is making submissions to the Tribunal, I keep an eye on the live transcript and note any issues that will need to be corrected in the final version. My supervisor, Jack, asks me to review earlier days in the hearing where certain witnesses were cross-examined to identify whether specific points were put to them. I do so and reply with my findings.

11:15 AM I leave the hearing with the team's Newly Qualified (NQ) associate, Nina, for a coffee run. We discuss thoughts on the morning's proceedings so far and agree to collaborate on the task of finding additional evidence for one of counsel's arguments. We make a start on this during the hearing break.

11:45 AM The hearing begins again and we continue searching for evidence in the electronic bundles. We prepare a draft email to the rest of the team and counsel detailing our findings, which Jack reviews before we send off.

1:00 PM The team pauses for lunch and we discuss the morning's proceedings. The partners and counsel identify points where further information is needed and the trial team collectively searches through the electronic bundles to answer these queries. I go on a short walk to stretch my legs.

2:00–4:30 PM The second half of the hearing commences and I continue to keep an eye on the live transcript. The Tribunal panel asks several questions which may be relevant to our arguments, so I make a note of them for future reference. At the end of the day, the team has a short debrief.

5:00 PM I arrive back at the office. I draft an email to the CAT regarding an amendment we need to make to our filed written closing submissions and prepare the amended submissions. I prepare confidential and non-confidential versions of the amended submissions to be uploaded to the electronic hearing bundles as well as the necessary instruction email and spreadsheet.

6:00 PM We receive the draft transcript of the day's hearing. I file these documents in our document management system and circulate soft copies to the client and counsel. I make a note to print a copy to take to counsel tomorrow.

6:30 PM I check my email and review my to-do list to ensure I haven't missed anything before logging off for the evening.

INTERNATIONAL SECONDMENTS

Morgan Lewis offers a range of international secondment opportunities for trainees, including six months in either our Dubai or Singapore offices, as needs may dictate.

ALASDAIR JOHNSTON
Dubai Secondment

The work in our Dubai office primarily relates to international and regional investment funds. From day one, I was able to approach practices

I was interested in working with and largely determine my own experience. For example, I became particularly involved in a corporate transaction that concerned a merger between entities domiciled in different Financial Free Zones of the United Arab Emirates. This transaction raised difficult questions regarding the continuation of legal personality, so much of my time was spent considering potential applications of various legal provisions to achieve the client's desired effect. This kind of novel and intellectually challenging work—which is not readily available in other jurisdictions—was very engaging.

There is a strong network of trainees in Dubai so there is plenty of opportunity to make friends and explore. The Dubai airport is only 20 minutes from the city, making it easy to visit nearby countries, even if just for the weekend. While on secondment, I managed to go to Oman, India, Georgia, and Lebanon.

Going on secondment was the highlight of my training contract. Being immersed in a different professional and cultural context helps you develop as a lawyer, and it was great to experience life and work in one of the world's leading financial centres.
