Managing the Global Workforce Roundtable

Join us for our Managing the Global Workforce Roundtable, bringing together Morgan Lewis international labor, employment, benefits, and immigration attorneys.

Our program is developed for U.S.-based in-house counsel and human resources teams who are overseeing employees around the world.

We will address the critical issues facing global legal teams such as working with joint ventures or partnerships, implementing cross-border policies, delegating legal authority, and managing social media use.

These topics and others will be central to our discussion and will be incorporated into our five-panel event:

- Managing workforce mobility: strategies for global immigration programs
- Challenges of Eurozone employees: the latest from the United Kingdom, France, and Germany
- Working effectively in the Greater Asian market: China and Japan
- Enforcing cross-border noncompete agreements
- Navigating the nuances of different jurisdictions in Latin America: Mexico and Brazil
